Debbie Bunting

Ouachita Mountains Pottery is located at Story, Arkansas. Debbie Bunting creates distinctive, timeless, functional pottery.

Debbie lives in the majestic Ouachita Mountains. She is a retired educator who loves making beautiful pottery. She expresses her creativity by making both traditional and unique pottery pieces for everyday use.

Growing up in rural Arkansas, Debbie helped her mother serve family meals using old pieces of pottery. One of her mother's favorite pieces was a small pitcher they all called, "Stubby." This was a heavy little piece which Debbie now makes and still calls, "Stubby."

Both Debbie and her sister, Karen, developed a love for pottery. Her sister is a successful, professional potter in northwest Arkansas. Over the years, Karen often invited Debbie to join her in the pottery studio. These studio experiences developed a desire to create beautiful pieces.

When she retired in 2017, her dream became a reality. She and her husband moved to Story and built a cabin which became her studio and gallery.

Her studio and gallery are open by appointment. She also provides classes for groups up to four people. She will help you create unique pieces for your home or priceless gifts for your friends and family. The classes are designed to meet your specific wishes.
