Ken Haley

Ken practiced nature photography in Oregon from 2007-2015, where his photos were exhibited in several art galleries and twice won awards at the University of Oregon. Relocating to Hot Springs Village with his wife Cathy in 2015, Ken was accepted as an exhibiting member at the Artists' Workshop Gallery and the Whittington Gallery in Hot Springs, as well as the Ouachita Artists Gallery in Mt. Ida.

Under the influence of his new artist friends in Arkansas, Ken's image processing has evolved into a distinctive style that he calls Artfoto Fusion. Using the Topaz series of digital tools that take the place of brushes and paints (which he would gladly use if he had the talent), he transforms his photos, both new and older, into works of art that he's proud to frame and exhibit.

Ken enjoys collaborating with artist June Lamoureux in producing unique digital versions of her paintings. Their collaborations have been featured in the Whittington Gallery and exhibited at the Ouachita Artists Gallery.

Besides the art galleries in Hot Springs and Mt. Ida, Ken's work has been exhibited at the Landmark Building in Hot Springs, the Woodlands Auditorium in Hot Springs Village, and on the Hot Springs Creek Greenway Trail as part of the Art Moves Hot Springs event in 2020 and 2021.

Ken also produces an email newsletter of his artwork called Ken's Lens, which he links to his Facebook page.
